VETERANS TO ANTI-TRUST LEAVE CAMP LEAGUE BUSY

Thousands of the Old Soldiers Unable to Stand Crowded Conditions-Exercises For Governors' Day-Confederates Adopt Resolutions

Gettysburg, Pa., July 31.-Although thousands of veterans left the unstarted for home, their going made little difference in the appearance of the battlefield camp today for thousands of others were on hand to par ticipate in the exercises of governors day. On both sides of Confederate avenue the tents were still alive with veterans and the lines before the cook tents did not seem to the cooks to have lost an inch, although the number that has left is estimated at close

The veterans acted today like a lot of school boys whose vacation is only few days away. Long before sun up they began parading the camp to the music of "The Streets of Cairo," played on fifes and drums. The paraders were hard workers and the band had powerful lungs and hands. for they kept it up until mess call

Many of the men who expect to leave tomorrow paid their farewell calls today on the men of the army they have come to know. In the days they have been here the feeling was There was no doubt in the minds of those who saw that so far as these men who have gathered here are concerned the war has ceased to posed of. He declined to give names source of hatred and rancor.

One of the events of today was the "charge" of the survivors of Pickett's division on the "Bloody Angle" held by the remnants of the Philadelphia

Under the hot sun the men in Gray marched across the field that has not seen anything more warlike than a black snake in fifty years, up to the walls that form the angle. "enemy" in blue was waiting with weapons ready and when they met across the wall they shook hands. Affor the site for a $250,000 monument they hope to have congress erect Confederates Adopt Resolutions.

Governors day called for speeches ident Marshall and the big congre cional delegation from Washington. At a meeting of Confederates the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved by the ex-Confederates at Gettysburg assembled, iered to the state of Pennsylvania for made it possible for the survivors of two great armies which fought in this illustrious field fifty years ago, to meet in friendship here today and plant a monument of peace, a monument which shall stand as the symbol of American valor, manhood and brotherhood.

"Resolved that we thank the government of the United States for the magnificent manner in which it has seconded the efforts of the state of Pennsylvania in carrying forward this great work of peace and fraternity between the Blue and Gray and without any self-abasement whatsoever we desire to affirm and pledge not only ourselves but all our brother ex-Confederates and all the people of our loved southland to the utmost loyalty to the government of the United States and to the flag of our coun-

Resolved, that we take pride in the fact that to the armies of the Confederacy is due the credit of demonstrating the utter impossibility of the dismemberment of the Union. When we consider that six hundred thousand men of the very flower of chivalry, as good material as was ever offered in a fighting force and directed by such commanders as our beloved Robert E Lee and his lieulenants, inspired by a sectional devotion such as has not elsewhere been known in history, failed to separate states we see that the demonwas not to be done and our failure must give pause to those who in the future would contemplate such an un-

Arrangements were perfected today for the reception of President Wison tomorrow. He will arrive in the town of Gettysburg at 11 a. m., and in order that the veterans may see him his automobile will be driven through the streets of Gettysburg and out the Emmettsburg road to the big tent, a distance of more than two miles.

Martin's testimony, less gripping and less startling than Lamar's yes terday when the latter blandly told of confidential relations with Wall Street leaders and his impersonations of congressmen, was corroborative and supplementary to Lamar's on several points. He testified that after Lamar drew the steel trust investi-gating resolution, he, Martin, induced Representative Stanley to introduce it. He did not tell Stanley that La-mar was its author but did not to suppress the fact knowledge that Lamar had used the resolution before introduction in dealings with financiers and protested he knew nothing of Lamar's telephone impersanations.
